The Coaching Staff

GEORGE ALLEN

HEAD COACH AND GENERAL MANAGER

Third Year with Redskins Became Head Coach of the Redskins January, 1971

A World Championship game in just two years, the Super Bowl. The most victories, eleven, in the 36-year history of the Washington Redskins.

This is what Redskin Head Coach George Allen has accomplished in his brief two years directing the fortunes of the Redskins.

Thirty years had gone by since the Redskins played in their last world title game, 1942. Twenty-seven years had gone by since the Redskins had won a championship, 1945.

The Super Bowl World Championship game was preceded in 1971 during his first year by winning a spot in the National Football League playoffs with the second best record in the NFC, 9-4-1. This was the first time in the era of modern professional football that a Redskin team was involved in a championship playoff since 1945. The nine wins in 1971 were the most for a Redskin team in 29 years. The 11-3-0 record in 1972 represents the most wins in Redskin history. The nine wins in 1971 were the most since 1942. Since that winning season, before Allen came, the Redskins had only six winning seasons and two break even years.

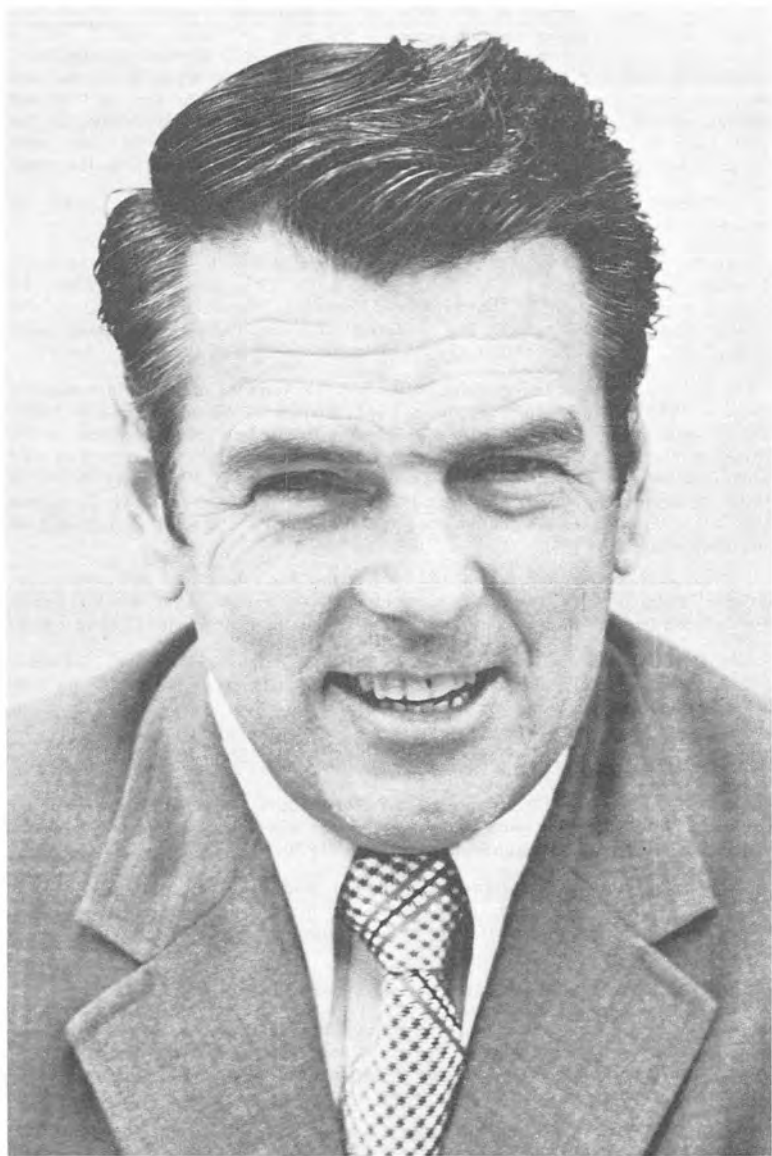

Also, it was 30 years ago that the Redskins won a title game at home, before the 16-3 playoff victory over the Central Division Champion Green Bay Packers and the 26-3 victory for the NFC Championship over the defending World Champion Dallas Cowboys.

This is what Allen has accomplished for the Redskins and the Nation's Capital in these two years.

The phenomenal turnaround with a team that had only one winning season during the previous 15 years before he took over won for him "Coach of the Year" honors both years. Again in 1972, for his taking the Redskins to the Super Bowl, he was voted both "NFL" and "NFC" Coach of the Year honors by various organizations. This marked the third time in his brief seven-year head coaching career that he has been so honored. He was Coach of the Year in 1967, his second year as head coach of the Rams.

Allen is the winningest coach in the National Football Conference. His seven-year regular season record is 69 wins, 24 losses and five ties for a winning percentage of .730. With three more years as a head coach, Miami's Don Shula has the best mark in the NFL, 105 wins, 30 losses and five ties for the top record of .768.

His 11-3-0 regular season record gave him his seventh consecutive winning year as a head coach, five with the Rams. The first place finish in the NFC retained his high finishes each year. In 1966, he finished third; 1967, first; 1968, second; 1969, first; 1970, second; and second in 1971.

GEORGE ALLEN

Allen's road record" is the best in the National Football League. His "road" record in regular season games is 36 wins, 11 losses and 2 ties. In his five years at Los Angeles, the "road" record was 26-7-2. With the Redskins, he has won 10 and lost 4 on the road. Both years with Washington, he won five and lost two on the road. In 1971, the Redskins lost to Kansas City and Chicago on the road. In 1972, they lost to New England and Dallas on the road. Four of his total of 11 "road" game losses came in his first year with the Rams in 1966. Since 1966, he has lost only 7 times in six years on the road.

In winning last year's opener against Minnesota, he also kept intact his record of never having lost an opening game—now a seven year string.

As the author and master of many top trades, Allen, in his efforts to bring a winner to Washington in his first year, made 19 trades that involved 33 players, most in the N.F.L. The 19 trades were just second to the Broncos and Saints, who had 20 trades. The Redskins also dealt away the most draft choices, 24. At the time of the 1973 training camp, he had made trades,

In his five years at Los Angeles, Allen led the Rams to a third place division finish in 1966; first in 1967; second in 1968; first in 1969; and second in 1970. His 11 wins, one loss and two ties in 1967 was the best season record in the history of the Rams. They played Conference title games against Green Bay and Minnesota. In two playoff bowls, they defeated Cleveland, 1968, and Dallas in 1970. Following the 31-0 win over the Cowboys, the Orange Bowl Committee gave Allen and the team a plaque congratulating them for their overall excellence and performance.

Allen went to Los Angeles in 1966 after the Rams had recorded seven consecutive losing seasons. The 1965 team had a 4-10 record. Allen quickly turned it all around as he won 8 and lost 6 in his first year as a professional head coach.

In 1967 Allen brought the Rams the best record in the history of the team with 11 wins, one loss and 2 ties. He was named "Coach of the Year" by UPI, The Sporting News and the Washington Touchdown Club, as well as "Co-coach of the Year" by the Associated Press for leading the team to its all-time winning mark. The overall record in '67, including pre-season, season, and playoff games was a fantastic 18-2-2 mark.

In 1968, Allen led the Rams to a second place finish to NFL Champion Baltimore. In 1969 they won the crown again but lost the Western title to Minnesota. Then came a second place finish in 1970.

Allen's reputation and record of winning and principally his phenomenal record of winning road games lends additional hope for a winning record. This is a quality that sets him apart from other football coaches.

A check of four years before Allen shows the Redskins won only 10 of 28 road games (10-15-3). The Rams in that period, under Allen, won 23 of 28 (23-3-2).

This is the all-time NFL record. No other professional coach in the history of the game has ever won 23 road games in four years. Allen's coaching record on the road is more significant for the Redskins since Allen did it with the Rams, a team that couldn't win away from home before he took over.

In the five pre-Allen years, the Rams won only six games away from home, 6 wins, 28 losses, and one tie.

During the Allen era, they made a complete turnabout on the road, losing only 7 games. On the road, they had 26 wins, 7 losses and 2 ties. Four of those seven losses were in his first year, 1966. Since then, 1967-1970, Allen's teams lost only 3 times in these 4 years.

Allen's overall (5-year) Ram record was 49 wins, 17 losses, and 4 ties for a percentage of .700, Best in Ram History.

Allen, author of six books, began his pro coaching career with the Rams in 1957, after nine years at Morningside (Iowa) and Whittier (California). In 1958, he was beckoned by the Bears' George Halas to join his staff, and did, as the Bears' number one defensive coordinator. He proceeded to mold the Chicago defense into one of the best throughout the eight years he headed the Bears' defensive unit.

The height of his defensive coaching came following the Bears' NFL championship victory over New York in 1963. Assistant coach George Allen was presented the game ball by the Chicago players. The title win was attributed to the stout Bear defense that stopped the potent Giant offense.

Allen was born April 29, 1922, in Detroit, Michigan and attended Lake Shore High School where he earned nine letters; three in football, three in basketball, and three in track. He was captain and all-conference in basketball.

In 1943 and 1944, under V-12 Naval Programs, he attended Alma College and played end. He moved on to Marquette University in 1944 and again played as a receiver. He completed his undergraduate work at the University of Michigan and was a member of the wrestling and baseball teams. He received his B.A. and M.A. from Michigan in 1947 and 1948 where he was a member of Sigma Delta Psi, national honorary athletic and scholarship fraternity. He also did graduate work on his doctorate at University of Southern California.

On May 13, 1973 he was invited back to Morningside College, Sioux City, Iowa (site of first head coaching job), to accept an Honorary Doctor of Laws degree.

Allen married the former Etty Lumbroso. They have four children: George (21), Senior at the Univ. of Virginia; Gregory (19), a Sophomore at the University of Delaware; Bruce (16) and Jennifer (12).

Dick Myers, Administrative Assistant

The newest member of the Redskin front office staff, Dick Myers will serve as administrative assistant to Coach George Allen. Dick has come to the Redskins with an excellent background in sports administration.

Only 26 years old, he has served for two years in the office of the Commissioner of the National Football League as Player Personnel Director. His primary concentration was in handling the N.F.L. waiver system, player contracts, trades and the annual college draft.

A native of Afton, Iowa, Myers received his Bachelor's degree from Cornell College, Mt. Vernon, Iowa, and his Master's degree from Ohio University in sports administration.

Prior to joining the Commissioner's staff at the League office, Dick worked at the New York bureau of United Press International. He also served as a graduate assistant in the office of sports information at Ohio University and was the sports information director as an undergraduate at Cornell College. He was also a sports correspondent to both Associated Press and United Press while attending high school in Iowa.

Dick was introduced into professional football during the summer of 1970 when he worked as an intern with the Cleveland Browns as an assistant to their director of public relations, Nate Wallack. This was made possible through the student-intern program at Ohio University for those graduate students enrolled in sports administration.

As administrative assistant Dick will oversee the Redskins' front office related duties. Because of his background and credentials he will also be active in Redskin trades and the signing of players.

Dick and his wife, the former Dolores Massone, are residing in Reston, Virginia. They are expecting their first child in July.

Brown was selected to, started and starred in, the Pro-Bowl his 4 years.

888, 1125, 948, 1216—total: 4177. These are Brown's rushing figures for his 4 years. This sum represents the most yards gained by a NFL runner over that span. He is now 4th among active NFC rushers. The 6 over-100 yard games in 1972 gives him a total of 18.

The 253 carries in 1971 were the most by a NFC ball carrier.

Brown won the 1972 NFC rushing crown with his 1216 yards. He lost the NFL rushing title to O. J. Simpson by 35 yards. Brown did not play in the final two games against Dallas and Buffalo. His 1216 yards is a new Redskin record. The previous record was his 1125 yards in 1970 when he won the NFL rushing title and became the first Redskin in history to make the elite 1,000 Yard Club. His 285 carries is also a new Redskin record for most rushes in a season.

His 285 carries was second most to the Giants' Ron Johnson who carried 298 times. The most carries in a season is held by Jim Brown, 305 and Jim Nance, 299. On a per game basis in 1972, Brown was the most active running back with an average of 24 attempts in 12 games for the total of 285. Brown joined Jim Brown (5055 yards) and Cookie Gilchrist (4010) as the only players ever to rush for over 4000 yards in their first four seasons when he reached 4177 at the close of the 1972 campaign. This brings Brown into Jim Brown's company again. This time in average attempts. Jim Brown averaged 262 carries in each of his nine seasons (2359 attempts). Larry Brown has averaged 244 carries in each of his four seasons, getting busier with each year, with 202, 237, 253, and 285 for a total of 977.

Larry's per game average is almost 19 in 52 games. His progression on the table of NFC active rushers has been rapid. Unlisted with 888 yards following his 1969 rookie year, he moved into 17th place with 2013 (this with his NFC leading 1125 yards in 1970), advanced to 13th with 2961 (948 yards in 1971), and leaped to 4th place with 4177 after his 1216 yards in 1972.

His 1216 yards and Simpson's 1251 yards is the most yards rushing in a season since 1968 when Leroy Kelly had 1239 yards.

Brown's 1216 rushing yards and 473 yards on 32 pass receptions gave him a total offense of 1689 yards. This was the fourth year in a row he has gone over 1000 total yards. He is the only player in the history of the NFL to do this during his career. The only time a player had gone over 2000 combined yards was Jim Brown in 1963 when he had 2131 yards, 1863 rushing and 268 passing.

He rushed over 100 yards 6 times in 1972 to give him 18 for his career. He also rushed for 101 yards in the playoff game against the Packers.

Pro Career: Signed by San Diego as free agent in 1964. Except for first year (1964 — 4 returns) and in 1970 when injured (5 returns) never averaged less than 10.4 on punt returns until last season. Led the AFL in punt returns in 1965 and 1966, tying AFL record for most seasons leading league. Surpassed 5,000 yards combined return yardage in 1970 along with Alvin Haymond of the Rams, a feat formerly accomplished by only four men in pro football history. Established AFL Championship game records for yards on KO returns (147) and longest KO return (72 yards) on Dec. 26, 1964. With the Redskins in 1971, Duncan ranked first in the NFL in punt returns with a 10.6 average, 22 returns for 233 yards. The 9.5 team average was first in the NFC and 2nd in the NFL. He is the NFC's 3rd ranking active punt returner with an 11.8 avg. on 171 returns. His 1954 yards is the most.

In 1971, his 27 kickoff returns for 724 yards, 26.8 avg., ranked 5th in the NFC and 7th in the NFL. In the playoff game against San Francisco, he returned 3 for 170 yards.

His 46-yard interception return for a touchdown iced the 38-24 victory over Los Angeles in 1971.

Duncan can replace Abe Woodson as the NFL's greatest return man. In 9 seasons as a 49'er and Cardinal, Woodson had a combined kick return total of 6494 yards (5538 on ko returns for the NFL record and 856 on punt returns). Duncan enters his 10th year with a combined total of 6428 yards. His pr yardage is 1954 and his ko yardage is 4474. Duncan's 1954 yards on punt returns is the 3rd highest total in NFL history, trailing only Emlen Tunnel's 2209 and Alvin Haymond's 2047. Haymond has a combined kick return total of 5782 yards (kos, 3735 and pr 2047). Besides these three, only three other players have combined for 5000 return yards—Al Carmichael, Green Bay and Denver (5710), Dick James, Washington and New York Giants (5628) and Timmy Brown, Green Bay, Philadelphia and Baltimore (5420). Duncan's 11.4-yard average places him third among players on the NFC's active punt return table. Since Nos. 1 and 2, Gale Sayers of Chicago and Pat Studstill at Los Angeles, no longer return punts, Duncan is the active pacesetter.

He is captain of the special teams.

Pro Career: Hanburger is considered one of the best linebackers in the NFL. His 1966 performance was acclaimed as the most outstanding by a vote of Redskin opponents. His efforts in 1966, 1967, 1968, 1969 and 1972 were rewarded by his selection to the Pro Bowl. Hanburger gave notice as a rookie when he started the last five games of the 1965 season and came up with unbelievable games. He left no doubt that the right linebacking job was his for keeps. Makes numerous "big" plays. His play and tackling have caused many opponents, especially quarterbacks, to fumble. Intercepted 2 passes—going for 30 yards and TD vs. Dallas in 1968. Picked up fumble against Dallas and went 19 yards for touchdown in 1969. In 1971, scored on 16 yard fumble return against St. Louis in Busch Stadium. Christian Adolph (Sonny) Jurgensen III Quarterback 6:00 203

17th Year Duke University Born: Aug. 23, 1934, Wilmington, N.C.

Became Redskin: April 1, 1964, in trade that sent Norman Snead and Claude Crabb to the Eagles.

Pro Career: Jurgensen won the NFL passing title in 1967 for the first time. Was runner-up to Bart Starr in 1966. In '67, Sonny established three NFL and Redskin all-time passing records; most attempts, 508; most completions, 288; and most yardage, 3747. He had set previous league yardage mark of 3723, with the Eagles in 1961. In winning the 1967 passing crown, Jurgensen finished first in TDs, (31); first in yardage (3747); first in percent of interceptions (3.1); first in attempts (508); first in completions (288); second in percentage of completions (56.7); and seventh in average yards gained per pass attempt, (7.38). Jurgensen is now ranked as the number 1 lifetime passer in the NFL. He is the leader among NFC active passers.

In 1968, Jurgensen was hampered by injuries and missed three full games and parts of others. He had an elbow operation May 18 for removal of calcium deposits. He participated in training camp drills sparingly. He did not play until the final pre-season game and led Redskins to win over Steelers. After the fifth game of the season it was discovered that he had fractured ribs. A special protective cast was made and had to be worn the rest of the season. A severe case of the flu also hit him during the season. He finished 8th in the NFL in passing.

In winning his second NFL passing crown in three years in 1969, Jurgensen had 274 completions in 442 attempts for 3102 yards and 22 touchdowns. The 274 completions total is the second highest ever in the League, topped only by Sonny's 288 in 1967. He is the only passer ever to gain over 3000 yards in a season five times.

Twice Jurgensen has thrown five TD passes in one game; passed for over 400 yards on five occasions; and has thrown for over 300 yards 23 times in his career, three of these in 1969. Jurgensen has passed for over 400 yards five times, three with the Eagles and twice with the Redskins. Over 30,000 yards passing was realized in 1972 as his 3-game total of 633 yards gave him 30,135 career yards. John Unilas is the only other NFL quarterback who has achieved this plateau with 39,768 yards.

In 1971, he injured his left shoulder making a tackle in the 5th pre-season game in Miami. He was sidelined until the 9th game in Chicago when he saw brief service in the 4th quarter. He played some the following week against Dallas in RFK. He started the next week, 11th game, at Philadelphia. He injured his shoulder again and didn't see any more action the rest of the season.

Following recovery of the shoulder injury that kept him out of the 1971 season except for three brief appearances, Jurgensen returned as a starter after the fourth game in 1972 against Philadelphia. After three consecutive wins, he suffered a severed achilles tendon in the first quarter of his fourth game against the Giants Oct. 29 in Yankee Stadium. An immediate operation forced him to miss the rest of the season.

Became Redskin: Jan. 28, 1971 in trade with New Orleans for Tom Rousel plus 4th and 8th round picks in 1972 draft.

Pro Career: Originally selected by San Francisco in round 1 of 1961 draft. Was triggerman of their shotgun offense. Did not play in 1963 due to serious injuries suffered in automobile accident, nor did he play in 1965. Selected by Saints in 1967 expansion draft and earned starting job at opening of season. Known for determination and fortitude. Named NFL offensive player of week by AP in 1969.

For the Redskins in 1971, Kilmer led the team to its finest season in 29 years. He took over for the injured Jurgensen in the final pre-season game against the Bengals. For his outstanding performances, Kilmer was voted "Most Valuable Redskin, 1971," by his teammates. He also was honored by the Philadelphia sportswriters when they gave him the highly coveted "Most Courageous Athlete of the Year" award. He was fourth in the balloting for NFL Player of the Year award.

His best day was against the Rams as he led the 38-24 win hitting on 14 of 19 passes for 240 yards and 3 touchdowns, clinching a playoff berth. He won the "Offensive Player of the Week" award by Associated Press.

For the season, he finished third in the NFC and sixth in the NFL combined rating. His 13 interceptions was 4th fewest in the NFC.

After taking the Redskins in 1971 to their best season in 29 years and into the NFC Playoffs, Kilmer directed the Redskins to the Super Bowl in 1972 and most wins, 11, in the club's history.

He opened the '72 campaign and quarterbacked the first 3 games. Jurgensen then returned and led the Redskins to wins over Philadelphia, St. Louis and Dallas. In the opening offensive series of the fourth game against the Giants in Yankee Stadium, Jurgensen suffered a ruptured achilles tendon and was lost for the season.

Kilmer returned to lead the Redskins to six straight wins and the NFC Playoff win over Green Bay and the NFC championship over Dallas. He finished the season as the fourth ranked passer in the NFC, and fifth among NFL passers. He ranks sixth among the NFC's leading active passers.

His 19 TD passes were the most in the NFC and tied with the Jets' Joe Namath as the most in the NFL.

In the two years with the Redskins, Kilmer has won 17 regular season games as the quarterback. He was the quarterback in 3 losses, both 1971 and 1972. In the 1971 Dallas loss, he and Jurgensen played. Kilmer was the qb in the 1971 tie with the Eagles, 7-7. In playoff and championship games, he has won two and lost one. His 2 wins were in 1972 to get the Redskins into Super Bowl VII over Green Bay and Dallas. His loss was in the playoff game in 1971 at San Francisco.

He had one of his finest games in the championship win over the Cowboys as he hit on 14 of 18 for 194 yards and two touchdowns, both to Charley Taylor. Against Green Bay, he was 7 of 14 for 100 yards and one scoring pass to Jerry Smith.

Kilmer was intercepted but 11 times in 1972, fewest among ranked passers in the NFC. The 7.43 yards gained per pass was the best in the NFC.

Kilmer's 9-year totals rank him 7th among the active passers in the NFC.

Jerry SmithTight End*6:03*208*9th Year Arizona State University Born: July 19, 1943, Oakland, Calif.Became Redskin: Dec. 13, 1964. Selected No. 9 in the 1964 draft.Pro Career: Took over for Pres Carpenter at tight end after Carpenter's injury in Eagle game 1965. Started last five games. Fifth top receiver with 18 catches for 257 yards and 2 touchdowns. Recovered 2 opponents' fumbles, no return.

In 1966, Smith finished as the top receiver in the league among the tight ends with 54 catches, 686 yards and 6 touchdowns. He started the season as the number one split end, then was involved in the "big switch" that sent him to tight end and brought Charley Taylor from the backfield to split end. As split end, during the first six games, Smith caught 16 for 162 yards, 1 TD.

In 1967 Smith's 67 receptions were the most ever in the NFL by a Tight End, and his 12 touchdown catches tied him for leadership in most TD receptions by a Tight End with Mike Ditka, who caught 12 for the Bears in 1961. It also tied him with teammate Charley Taylor for the Redskins mark, 12. Smith's second place finish to Taylor was the closest a Tight End has ever come to winning the pass receiving title. He is the third tight end receiver ever to finish in the top 10 with his 3 finishes following his 7th place ranking in 1969. The others to finish in the top 10 have been Mike Ditka (4 times) and Pete Retzlaff (3 times).

In 1968, Smith played all season as flanker when he caught 45 passes, 9th best in the league.

For 1969's unanimous All-Pro tight end Smith, his 54 receptions and 9 touchdown catches represented the best by the League's tight ends. It also marked the third time Smith has been the number one tight end in the League, 1966 with 54; 1967 with 67. It was also the 4th consecutive year he finished in the top ten pass leaders of the NFL. His three TD receptions against Dallas marked the second time in his career that he has caught three. He caught three against the Rams in 1967.

In 1970, with a vastly improved backfield and resultant running game, lowering the necessity for relying primarily on passing, Smith finished as the Redskins leading receiver with 43 catches for 575 yards and 9 TDs, most in NFC by a Tight End.

In 1971, an aggravating groin injury kept him out 5 games and was not at full strength all season. His sparse play gave him only 16 receptions, 1 TD, his lowest career output. He now ranks tenth in NFC active pass receivers.

In 1972, he had 21 for 353 yards and seven touchdowns. The seven scores were the most caught by a tight end in the NFC and second highest in the NFL. The Raiders' Raymond Chester led the NFL with eight touchdowns.

Smith's 52 career (8 years) touchdowns are also the most by a tight end in the history of the NFL. Twelve-year veteran Mike Ditka is second with 43. Eleven-year veteran Gary Ballman has 37 scores and ten-year veteran Jackie Smith has 33 scores.

All-Pro and Pro Bowl selection first four years in the league. Taylor won the pass receiving title for 1966, catching 72 passes for 1119 yards and 12 touchdowns. He repeated in 1967 as top NFL receiver with 70 for 990 yards and 9 TDs. The 72 receptions tied the Redskin season record held by Bobby Mitchell. Taylor was part of the "big switch" midway through the 1966 season. The Redskins' finest running back was moved to split-end. The switch came in the seventh game against St. Louis. It was late in the first quarter that Taylor surprised and left his halfback post and went outside. Before the switch, from his halfback spot, Taylor caught 18 passes for 348 yards and 4 scores. Seven games later, he finished as the league leader. His 12 TDs by receptions tied him with Hugh "Bones" Taylor for most touchdowns by receptions for a Redskin and his total of 15 set a new Redskin touchdown mark for a season. Against Dallas in the first game, Taylor caught 11 passes to tie Mitchell's mark for most receptions in a game. He caught passes for more than 100 yards in five games. He had 4 in 1967.

The 1-2-4 finish by Taylor, Smith and Mitchell in 1967 marked the first time in the history of the NFL that three receivers on the same team finished that high, and the combined 197 receptions was the most by a threesome in the top-finishers, ever. The finish in 1967 was even more phenomenal since Taylor missed three games because of an injury and Mitchell was running back for five games, from the second through the sixth game. Taylor led the team in receptions again in 1968 with 48, 7th in the NFL.

In 1969, after Mitchell retired at the beginning of the season, Taylor placed second in the league with 71 receptions for 883 yards and 8 touchdowns. Going into the final game of 1969 he was tied with the winner, the Saints' Danny Abramowicz, who finished with 73.

Taylor ranked in the top ten receivers each of his first six years in the league and was well up among the leaders in 1970 until an injury suffered in the third quarter of the 10th game of the season against Dallas on Nov. 22nd sidelined him for the remainder of the season. His season total was still 42 catches for 593 yards and eight touchdowns.

Taylor broke two Redskins Records in 1970. He supplanted Hugh Taylor for most touchdowns, lifetime, with 61. The old record was 58 (all on passes). Charley scored 50 TDs on passes, 11 by rushing. He also replaced Bobby Mitchell in the category of Most Pass Catches, lifetime. Taylor totaled 396 catches for 5,615 yards and 50 TDs. Mitchell's old record was 392 receptions for 6,480 yards and 49 TDs.

In 1971, he added to this record although sidelined for the second season in a row. He suffered a fractured ankle in Kansas City as he was scoring his second touchdown of the game near half-time. He was out the rest of the season. The TD catch was his 7th in the half to give the Redskins a 17-6 half-time lead. In 5½ games, he caught 24 for 370 yards and 4 scores. Had 2 over 100 yard games.

Taylor is currently the No. 2 Active Pass Receiver in the National Football Conference, ranking behind Lance Alworth of Dallas and is ranked 11th in the NFL. Added to his record total as the leading receiver in 1972 with 49 receptions, 673 yards and seven touchdowns. Had a big day in NFC championship victory over Dallas as he caught 2 scoring passes.

REDSKIN PLAYOFF RECORD

1971 Redskins—Eastern Division, NFC, Wild Card Winner, 9-4-1

Redskins, 20; San Francisco, 24

Redskins take a 10-3 halftime lead but fail to cash in on scoring opportunities. A Brodie to Washington 78-yard scoring pass ignites a powerful and winning 49er counter-attack.

1972 Redskins—Eastern Division Champions, NFC, 11-3-0

Playoff Game — Redskins, 16; Green Bay, 3

Powerful Redskin defense cuts off Green Bay running attack and the Redskins win their first playoff game under the new NFL championship rules. Billy Kilmer hit Jerry Smith for a score and Curt Knight kicked three field goals.

NFC Championship Game—Redskins, 26; Dallas, 3

The Redskins win their first conference championship in 30 years with a smashing victory over the Cowboys who were the defending conference and Super Bowl champions. Kilmer flipped two touchdowns to Charley Taylor and Knight booted a playoff record 4 field goals. Defense was outstanding all day.

Super Bowl VII — Redskins, 7; Miami, 14

Undefeated Miami cooled off the Redskins attack and the Dolphins became Super Bowl champions with the first undefeated season by any NFL team since the 1941 Chicago Bears.

The Super Bowl

In 1970, the NFL was divided into two 13-team conferences, comprised of the 26 teams formerly competing in the National Football League and the American Football League. Each conference was further divided into three divisions, the winner of each conference to be determined by a playoff of the three division winners plus the second place team within the conference with the best record. The winner of the two conferences meet in the NFL title game — The Super Bowl.
